

Job Posting

Position: Equity Research Analyst - Oil & Gas
Department: Equity Research
Location: Calgary

Scotia Capital, a major Canadian investment dealer, is seeking a Research Analyst to cover the Oil & Gas sector. Responsibilities will include providing investment recommendations on publicly listed companies together with identifying key industry themes. You are driven to win and will be motivated to be considered the best in the sector in Canada.

In-depth financial analysis, producing research reports with value-added perspectives, marketing to institutional clients, and liaising with internal sales and trading personnel represent a large part of your duties. Demonstrated strong market judgment and a high accuracy of stock recommendations will be instrumental to your success. Extensive travel is required.

Your qualifications and talents include:

- An undergraduate degree in engineering or geology; a professional designation (P.Eng./P.Geol.) would be an asset
- Experience in the oil and gas sector and/or investment industry
- An MBA or Chartered Accountant (CA) designation would be an asset
- Completion or enrolment in the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) program
- Superior analytical skills
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Demonstrated aptitude for marketing and selling
- Good business judgment and decision-making skills
- Ability to work as part of a team on a number of projects simultaneously

Individuals wishing to explore this exceptional opportunity are asked to send a résumé and cover letter in complete confidence to: Erika Osmond: email: erika_osmond@scotiacapital.com.

We thank all candidates who apply and advise that only those selected for an interview will be contacted.
